SEE ZANE GREY AS
BOY WHO MADE GOODZanesville Folk Recall Writer
Lived Sports Better Than His Books

CANTERBURY, April 9.—Zane Grey, whose name is one of the most popular in the country of the present day, but whose name of this city it means little to the "hometown" boy who has made good.

It delights the people here to be able to tell tourists to go to the mid-

10's. His mother was a direct descendant of Eleazar Zane, founder of this city which was once the capital of Ohio. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Grey was christened Zane in honor of his illustrious forefather.

The boy's father was a husbandman and farmer in the early days, but with indefatigable courage, the elder Grey surmounted the obstacles of frontier life and became a citizen.

Liked Sports
Zane was afforded his primary education in the public schools here. He was not a diligent student and was described as a lad who liked sports far better than his books. He loved to roam over the hills of this country, and he swam in the Licking and Muskingum rivers, at the junction of which there now stands the only "T" bridge in the world.

It delights the people here to be able to tell tourists to go to the middle of the bridge and turn to the left, which, of course, can't be done safely on any other bridge. There are seven other bridges over the rivers here within a three-block area.

After being graduated from the high school here, Zane entered the University of Pennsylvania and in 1902 a D. D. S. degree was conferred upon him.

But the practice of dentistry held no interests for him and he forced the profession to become a professional baseball player. He had excelled in the sport at college and had little trouble making the Newark Eastern League team. Later he took a "tryout" on the Jackson team in the Michigan league.

These experiences probably picked him with the players for the "Young Pitcher" and other stories of America's sport, which have endeared him to the hearts of juvenile readers.

Begins To Wander
His parents helped him at first and after a short time he abandoned the "sand lot."

Then the spirit of the wanderlust seized him. His trail led through Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York. In 1904, he published his first book, "Bettie Zane" which was dedicated to his mother.

Seeking "local color" for books that were to follow, books that created for him an excited place in the popular fiction field, Zane journeyed to Georgia, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Lower California, Mexico, Yucatan, the West Indies and Canada. He now lives at Altadena, Calif.

Most of his novels have been made, making the great American public familiar with the name of the "hometown" boy who has gone away and made good.

CHILD PRODIGY

Five-Year-Old Ohio Boy Plays Instruments by "Ear"

NEW LEXINGTON, April 9.—Billy Smith, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith, who live near Millersport, is being hailed as a child prodigy in music.

Though he has never taken a lesson, the youngster can play a tune after hearing it. He imitates radio artists, and amazes his parents by memorizing and playing various selections.

Billy is versatile, too. He can tickle the keys of the piano, blow a clarinet and play the harmonica.

WOMAN BEST SHOT

ELYRIA, April 9.—The best shot in the city council is—no, not a man, but a woman, Mrs. Anna M. Kennedy, local council woman. Members of the council were asked to shoot a shoulder machine gun at the city hall range, at a demonstration of the gun for police purposes. Mrs. Kennedy was the only member of the council who was able to score a "bullseye."

OHIO WOMEN BUYING STOCKS THESE DAYS

Ask Plenty of Foolish Questions, Says Broker Who Longs for Old Days

CLEVELAND, April 1.—A stock broker says he has one bit of comfort in the last few days. And before it is lost, it is what a majority of the few men left in market affairs say: death. The years when the market was in the red, he says, were the best of his life. And for that reason, the old broker over 60 and hard-earned face of a clerk has spared a whole lot of foolish questions.

One of the leading Cleveland brokers is responsible for the statement that when investors are asked to do one more thing, it is that they "will not be able to do it." But he is not alone in his attitude. Most of the men in the market are in agreement that the market is in a state of "grave danger." And when they are asked, their answer is equally sparsely.

Most Are Wealthy
Men of the new generation he believes are comparatively wealthy. He adds that there are numerous working men who are changing their savings in an effort to beat the market. He further says, "The assets do not go around the extremes, but when we are told that alone and for that reason, that alone do not make us as bad as the other 900 billion to have been to buy it with the idea of getting a greater number of the best known speculative issues."

Longs for Old Days
This broker also longs for the good old days when stocks and bonds were almost exclusively a part of many a world. "They declare in money," he says, "that it is a good idea to diversify."

OLD JEWISH OPERA PRESENTED

THE first Jewish opera, "Shulamith," will be heard in the weekly "Symphony series" to be broadcast over the WEAF network at 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

"Shulamith" tells the story of that 10-year-old girl's wandering in the desert and her rescue by Absalom at the well. They plight their teeth and the witnesses call upon the well and the jaded Absalom forgets his oath and marries another. Through the jaded and the well he is punished for his faithlessness but ultimately Shulamith and he are reunited.

WITH THE STAR STAFF

Sheriff in Limelight

MARION county residents are well acquainted with Sheriff Francis and his style of dress and have not difficulty recognizing him when covered by one of the spurious felt topcoats which are being sold among our favorites.

In other cities, particularly those at some distance from here, the sheriff is not so well known and his lack of a coat does not serve as a means of identification.

That proved true when the officer made a visit to Albany, N. Y., several weeks ago to make an arrest on a fugitive from the governor of Ohio. It so happened that Tom Mix, famous western movie star, was booked to appear in Albany the same day and from all my fans know, were not similar to that of the Marion sheriff.

The result is as might have been expected. Several times during the sheriff's stay in Albany he was mistaken for Mix and had trouble in convincing some of the crowds of the contrary.

Keeping Cool

MARION boys and girls have gone in for the idea a little sooner than their parents. There has been talk and writing of no stockings or just ankle-length hose this summer. At the first suggestion of warm weather, the kids discarded their stockings, either for none at all, or for those rather ankle-length creations.

All this seems to be brought about by the rush and bustle of roller-skating. Tiny tots of three and four years are beginning to take to this popular outdoor sport and many of them are more graceful in their first attempts than their older sisters and brothers.

Cupid's Seasons

JUST which is more popular, Easter or June 15th weddings? If any one noticed the society page of The Star on the Monday after Easter there were seven marriages and two engagements. This was not only true of The Star, but of all other papers, too.

The reason is found in the excellent condition of the wheat crop this year. When 40 per cent of Ohio's winter wheat was winter killed a year ago, farmers' past in an abnormally large acreage of oats to replace it. In spite of unusually heavy demands for oats for feed and for export, there was 50 per cent more grain of this kind on farms in Ohio on March 12 this year, than on the same date in 1935.

For the entire United States the intention to plant indicate an acreage of about one per cent over the 1938 acreage, and even with the reduction from last year's figure, Ohio's acreage will be slightly higher than it was in 1926 and 1927.

Annual Junior High Event To Take Place April 10

The social committee of Central Junior High school has met and discussed plans for the annual athletic banquet of the school to be held this year on April 10.

The committee includes Miss Hazel Hopkiss, Miss Zelma Howard, Miss Anna Parks and W. C. Orient. The first two were chosen to fill the places left vacant by the death of Miss Ruth Ledges and the illness of Miss Grace Culkin.

A tentative program has been arranged, and will include, besides the regulation speeches and toasts, a program of music.

TO GIVE ADDRESS

O. W. U. Professor on Program at Hopkiss' Anniversary

DELAWARE, April 9.—Dr. Arthur H. Hirsch, head of the department of history at Ohio Wesleyan university, will deliver the university address before the Huguenot Society of South Carolina, at Charleston, April 13.

The meeting of the society will be held at the historical Huguenot church at Charleston, the only church in the United States where the Huguenot service is still regularly observed.

Dr. Hirsch is an authority on Huguenot history in the United States and was recently elected an honorary member of the Huguenot society in recognition of publication of his book, "The Huguenots of Colonial South Carolina."

MARTEL STUDENTS IN DECLAMATORY CONTEST

MARTEL, April 9.—Carl Günther, Evelyn Lyon, Hilli Günther, Dolores Noff, Ruth Reed and William Valentine will represent the Marotel school in the declamatory contest to be held April 20, at Waldo, it is announced. The winners were named from an elimination trial held recently at the local school.

SISTER OF PROSPECT MAN DIES IN GERMANY

John Scherzer, of near Prospect, has received word of the death of his sister, Mrs. Katherine Angermayer, in a hospital at Munich, Germany. She was aged 52 years and was the last of the family residing in Germany. Mrs. Angermayer was an aunt of Mrs. John Scott, Orchard st.

On the Streets of Marion

here came word of some grave happenings.

As a result of the last-forgotten parent's campers, reports ranging from floods and fires to some serious mishap, including 150 people were sent to the hospital in Marion. Numerous relatives came to Marion to see The Star. However, no one report was available there.

The mystery was not solved even the next day and no one seemed to know the identity of the boy or boys responsible for the fire. It was suggested that some persons who wanted to get rid of a surplus of merchandise buy up the place making sales.

In other cases, particularly those at some distance from here, the sheriff is not so well known and his lack of a coat does not serve as a means of identification.

Heavies Pass Out

PEOPLE are taking to Spring more quickly and enthusiastically nowadays than they used to. Perhaps because in these modern days one doesn't wait until the middle of May before suddenly discarding the winter's umbrella pieces at a time, so that there will be no danger of pneumonia, consumption or any other dread disease resulting from the change to moist underclothing.

Today, silk underwear as briefly made as possible is the thing for year-round wear, and if the girl or boy of 1936 feels that late March or early April is the time to step out in summer array, with no sleeves, with dresses and slippers, it's their business

Broaders with tops down, boys in knickerbockers, girls in light summer dresses and hats and almost the entire population canans the scene that

COMMUTING WOULD BE BARRED BY U. S.

"Attorney Seeks To Have Canadian Workers Kept Out of Detroit

DETROIT, April 2.—In a suit of 100 injunctions restraining immigrants from performing with Canadian Detroit communities, as a result of the United States Supreme Court's decision that the law is unconstitutional, the Canadian workers were commuted April 1 by Justice Edward T. Farnsworth, assistant U. S. district attorney in Illinois.

A federal injunction of the immigration ban Farnsworth said, "so as soon as these injunctions go into effect, the Canadian workers will be free to return to their work."

Some 600 persons in the 110 cities who have been immigrating daily to Detroit to their employment are affected by the ruling.

Altogether, 1,000 immigration cases were held up by the supreme court on a unanimous decision to prohibit from freely entering this country to work.

The question regarded as of great importance by the government and by American labor organizations, is whether a construction of an article of the law treaty with Great Britain and of the provision of the immigration act providing that no one can be required to comply with the quota provisions.

The two involved under article 1 of the law treaty were free at all times to cross the boundary and further, argued that they were exempt from the quota restrictions because in coming into the country to work they were rendering temporary services for business or pleasure.

Big Suit.

Mark Gold, a British subject born in Scotland and Antonio Durante, a native of Italy both residing at Niagara Falls, Ont., placed the question before the court in continuing their right to cross the Canadian border to work upon the regulation of an identification card that could not be required to comply with the quota provisions.

The two involved under article 1 of the law treaty were free at all times to cross the boundary and further, argued that they were exempt from the quota restrictions because in coming into the country to work they were rendering temporary services for business or pleasure.

Lower Courts Disagreed.

The federal district court sustained the government in its contention that while native Canadians were entitled freely to cross the border with regard to the quota restrictions, naturalized Canadians were not. The circuit court of appeals however took the view the aliens coming here do not labor for hire were visiting the country on business and were not immigrants.

This construction accepted by courts along the seaboard threatened to break down of the quota restrictions. Therefore, when the bill was submitted to the legislature, the two senators from the state, Mr. and Mrs. Gold, and Mr. Durante, who was 90, so circumstances compelled them to place restrictions upon Canada.

Baseball Settles Down After Turbulent Training Period

MANAGERS OF FIVE TEAMS ARE FORCED TO USE STERN WORDS

Many Fretful Athletes Determined To Seek Self-Expression

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK April 9.—It is encouraging to note today that baseball managers, after some of the fretful athletes determined to seek self-expression even if they had to burn their flags for it, were instrumental in making the 10.0 train in season the most turbulent in recent history. True, the boys were careful not to express themselves on their employer's time. They went in for late business hours as a matter of fact.

In consequence the managers of five ball clubs were constrained to make a number of overtures before the desired effect was achieved and hours of delay could be permitted to go home for the night. Judge Ruths is said to have been one of those who had to speak firmly to the players in several occasions although he had been somewhat exasperated. The Bucs have nothing to elaborate about.

Shires Suspended

Neither have the Chicago White Sox that master yet. Mr. Whitehead had to take his team captain, Mr. Shires, on severely to task last Friday. Merle Shires started the bout with the apparent intention of finishing the Columbus boy early. Merle, who by a technical knock out in the second round when the bout was stopped, Merle had 10 points down at the count of nine four times in the two rounds. The Columbus boy was not badly hurt.

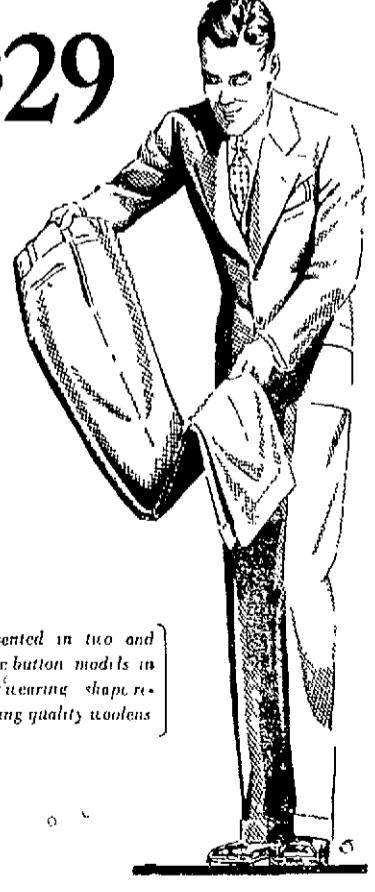

Wildcat Malone's appearance against Tony Lombardo of Toledo was of short duration with the Marlon boy winning on a foul in the first round.

Walters Beaten

Biddle Mansfield Toledo returned to the northern Ohio city with a technical knockout after meeting Chuck Walters of Columbus in the first preliminary. The fight ended in the fifth round when Walters scored two rounds by a wide margin but Ruth came back strong in the last two sessions to win up the bout.

Youth Not Always Served in Athletics; Many Old Timers Still Hold Upper Hand

BY QUINN HALL

THE 1925 year on the Huntington turned out to be a bad one for the young. They served in getting a swell school on the year when it comes to athletic contests. In almost every branch of sports one will and old timers who are consistently showing up the 1925ers who are just making their way in the head on the sport pages. Sport history is filled with outstanding examples.

Mrs. May Sutton (Mrs. Bundy) is still playing tennis after 25 years of competition on the courts. As late

PROGRAM OF SPRING SPORTS SCHEDULED

Intramural Activities at Wesleyan To Get Under Way

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

COLLEGEVILLE April 9.—Ohio Wesleyan university students returning here today following their annual spring vacation will start at once upon an extensive program of outdoor intramural sports.

The varsity track team will compete in eight meets, the tennis team meets 10 opponents, and the baseball nine plus 11 contests.

The Bishop baseball team opens its schedule tomorrow with a practice game against Oberlin.

However, the great uprising of 1920 happily seems to be no more leaving marked tranquillity in its wake. Things are a matter of fact again are pretty much as they were except that Mr. Shires is temporarily minus one job and Mr. Jessell is very permanently minus one hundred dollars.

PITCHING WEAK

Hebold Worried As Columbus Senators Lose To Marion

MACON, Ga., April 9.—Manager Hebold is downcast today. And he has plenty of reason to be. If the Senators' pitchers are not good enough to stop Linn's team how are they going to get any place in the American association? This is the question everyone is asking. The Marion club of the South Atlantic league yesterday scored a 6 to 1 victory over the Columbus club.

CLUBS PLAY THIEVES

DETROIT April 9.—The Cubs' Leo Hutton tomorrow for Kansas City were to play three games with the Indians before embarking for home to open the pennant season. They defeated Houston's champion club team again yesterday 10 to 1.

SHIRK'S BACK

DETROIT April 9.—With Art Shirk in the hills to present the White Sox were out to Memphis today. The Hebs reported after yesterday's game in which they defeated Dallas 1 to 3.
